DETAILED ACTION

1. In response to the previous office action, claims 1, 8, 11, and 18-24 have been amended. Claims 1-24 have been examined.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 1-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The manner by which the physical location of a terminal is determined as per Applicant's specification involves communication, either directly or indirectly, between the terminal and an access terminal. Applicant's argument that the granting of access may be determined based upon a lack of communication (see Remarks, filed 25 June 2008) do not support the wording of the claims as amended, as any such determination would be made based upon a lack of a location, rather than upon a location. The claims therefore lack support under the original disclosure.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1, 3, 7-11, 13, 17, 18, 20, and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 6,414,635 to Stewart et al.

Stewart discloses a wireless (see column 1, lines 8-14) communication system that are inherently implemented on computer readable media in which a connection request by a PCD (the user's mobile terminal) to a wireless AP (the access point), including identification information (see column 8, lines 9-23). The PCD may provide its location to the network, and the multiple access points are deployed according to location (and their location of the AP's are inherently associated with their identities). The PCD may provide its location as determined from a GPS. Since the PCD may access any AP, the PCD and AP must be otherwise unassociated (see column 7, lines 20-41). Services may be made available to the user based upon the location relative to the location of the AP (see column 12, lines 41-61). Since the AP being accessed is not the access terminal, the PCD and AP are not required to be communicatively connected.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 2, 4-6, 12, 14-16, 19, and 21-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent No. 6,414,635 to Stewart et al.

Regarding claims 2, 4, 12, 14, 19, and 21, Stewart discloses that access points or mobile terminals are associated with particular locations, but does not disclose the mechanism by which the central server makes those associations through a query.

Official notice is given that it is well-known in the art to determine the location of a client by a server by querying it for the appropriate information.

Therefore it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the invention of Stewart by making location determinations using queries, as is well-known in the art.

Regarding claims 5, 6, 15, 16, 22, and 23, though Stewart does not disclose which messages are being used for location determination, it would be obvious to trigger the process in response to a user message, as this would make the mobile terminal active.

Conclusion

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
